BancorpSouth Cares about our teammates, customers and communities, and we are here to help during these challenging times. During the COVID-19 (coronavirus) crisis, we will provide advice and guidance to help you manage these times of uncertainty.

Making the Most of Being at Home

We're living in unprecedented times. Governments and local officials across our footprint have issued orders regarding essential business activity. This has prompted the temporary closure of many businesses, schools and civic organizations to help stop the spread of COVID-19. Whether you're working from home, completing schoolwork online or just spending more time with your family, we want to help you make the most of being at home.

LIVE MORE, COMMUTE LESS

If you're working from home or going to school online, chances are your commute just got drastically shorter. According to the U.S. Census Bureau, the average one-way commute time for an American worker is 27.5 minutes.

Instead of using this opportunity to get more ZZZs or catch up on your favorite TV show, consider substituting your morning and evening commute with something more productive like working out at home, meditating or trying out that new recipe you now have time to prepare. GET YOUR KIDS INVOLVED

Use the time you spend with your family as an opportunity to help your children develop useful financial skills. The habits you teach them now could last them a lifetime. If you're not sure where to start, use their allowance to teach them important lessons with this article.

COMPLETE TASKS YOU'VE PUT OFF

Extra time at home is the perfect occasion to complete those tasks you've been putting off. Use this time to clean out your closet or that junk drawer in the kitchen. Clear the clutter and feel accomplished, all while practicing social distancing.

At BancorpSouth, we're right where you are, for every stage of your life. We've been through several ups and downs in the last 144 years and have always helped our communities bounce back. Learn more about BancorpSouth's Commitment to Safety & Preparedness by visiting: bancorpsouth.com/safety.
